Parks and rec director addresses sale representatives

Wixson Huffstetler, director of the Jonesboro Parks and Recreation Department, spoke last week at a national sales meeting of Landscapes Structures Inc. The meeting, held at the Mall of America in Minneapolis, was attended by about 300 people.

LSI is an international company that specializes in building playgrounds and was involved in the development of the Miracle League facilities in Jonesboro, as well as several other parks.

Huffstetler spoke about his experience in working with the company on the Miracle League field and about the importance of inclusive play in such facilities. He also fielded questions afterward.

LSI considers the Miracle League field to be a showcase facility for the company, Huffstetler said, and he considers it complimentary that people from other cities across the country want to tour the facility and discuss the concept of inclusive play.

Huffstetler was one of 12 presenters at the conference.
